Policy Statement: Escape staff, committee and volunteers understand the importance of protecting children and vulnerable adults from neglect, abuse or exploitation (see Appendix A for full details). Escape Support Group is a safe environment in which children and young people can experience our activities.

ESCAPE SUPPORT GROUP are committed to the importance of safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children. It has:

- a clear line of accountability for the commissioning and/or provision of services designed to safeguard and promote the welfare of children;
- a Designated Safeguarding Lead take leadership responsibility for ESCAPE SUPPORT GROUPS safeguarding arrangements;
- a culture of listening to children and vulnerable adults and taking account of their wishes and feelings, both in individual decisions and the development of services;
- clear whistleblowing procedures and are suitably referenced in staff training and codes of conduct, and a culture that enables issues about safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children to be addressed;

- a designated Deputy Safeguarding Lead for safeguarding at Escape Support Group. Their role is to support other professionals in their agencies to recognise the needs of children, including rescue from possible abuse or neglect. Designated professional roles should always be explicitly defined in job descriptions. Safeguarding leads should be given sufficient time, funding, supervision and support to fulfil their child welfare and safeguarding responsibilities effectively;
- Safe Recruitment means using recruitment processes that help keep children safe, including robust safety checking. Escape Support Group will only recruit representatives who are suited to work with children. Strict child-safe recruitment practices apply to all candidates, which include but are not limited to comprehensive background screening, thorough interviewing procedures, and robust reference checks. The Child Safeguarding Policy is signed by all staff and is a binding commitment that the employee agrees and is committed to following all safeguarding policies and procedures, both in their professional and personal interactions with children.
- appropriate supervision and support for staff, volunteers and committee members including undertaking safeguarding training
- ensuring that staff, volunteers and committee members are competent to carry out their responsibilities for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and vulnerable adults and creating an environment where staff feel able to raise concerns and feel supported in their safeguarding role;
- staff, volunteers and committee members are given a mandatory induction, which includes familiarisation with safeguarding responsibilities and procedures to be followed if anyone has any concerns about a child's safety or welfare;
- all staff, volunteers and committee members should have regular reviews of their own practice

In all activities the staff and committee members need to be receptive and alert to the members' behaviours or comments that could indicate a safeguarding issue.

All staff and committee members are monitored by the Disclosure and Barring Service in terms of offences against children or adults. A common sense approach is required if other offences are disclosed that are old, e.g. committed in teens or motoring, if the chair feels that they present no risk to people or the reputation of Escape.

External training for staff and the committee will be sought every year, but the committee will discuss and raise issues of safeguarding at a meeting in the autumn of each year.

Procedures and people responsible

The Safeguarding Lead is responsible for organising and securely filing all Disclosure and Barring paperwork. If a committee member has an offence that could, if repeated, cause harm to children or vulnerable adults, they will be excluded from the committee. When staff are appointed their contract would be terminated during the probationary period if the disclosure form identified convictions or cautions against children or vulnerable adults.

Any concerns must be recorded in one's own handwriting, signed and dated. Concerns cannot be ignored but it is not Escape's role to investigate concerns, and staff or committee members must not question or comment upon their concerns. The handwritten concerns will be sealed in an envelope and held in a confidential file or emailed to committee@escapesupportgroup.com. Somerset Direct / Somerset Social Care must be informed / contacted immediately or on the next working day.

Concerns around safeguarding about staff or the committee are treated in exactly the same way with a referral to Somerset Direct.

Members are unlikely to read this policy but if staff or committee members are contacted by a member about a safeguarding issue, they should support the member in making a referral to Somerset Direct.

The Safeguarding Lead will organise a safeguarding training session once a year.

Example Risk Assessments are attached for trips, coach incident or accidents whilst on a trip to also ensure the families are safeguarded.

If a member of the committee or member of staff is concerned about a safeguarding issue they must write in their own handwriting their concerns, why, where and when they became concerned. Addresses and surnames will be provided if necessary by the staff prior to phoning Somerset Direct. They should, on the next working day, contact Somerset Direct and share their concern.

The chairperson must be informed by the committee member or Safeguarding Lead of the actions with Somerset Direct and the handwritten report copied for Somerset Direct with the original held securely inside an envelope and in a locked file within the office.

If a child or vulnerable adult is at immediate risk the police should be called immediately.

The main categories of Child Abuse are Physical Abuse, Emotional Abuse, Neglect/Negligent Treatment, Sexual Exploitation & Abuse and Exploitation.

Emotional Abuse

Harm to a child's emotional, intellectual, mental or psychological development. This may occur as an isolated event or on an ongoing basis. Emotional abuse includes but is not limited to any humiliating or degrading treatment (e.g., bad name-calling; threats; yelling, screaming, or swearing at; teasing; constant criticism; belittling; persistent shaming; etc.), failure to meet a child's emotional needs, and rejecting, ignoring, terrorising, isolating or confining a child.

The actual or attempted abuse of a position of vulnerability, power differential, or trust for the benefit of the individual leveraging their position, power, privilege, or wealth (through enticement, manipulation, coercion or trickery) to engage a child in labour, domestic servitude, forced criminality, soldiering or organ harvesting. Typically, the person(s) exploiting a child does so in order to profit monetarily, socially, or politically. It can happen to one or a group of a children, in the community of origin, outside of the community, or internationally. The exploitation of a child may include but is not limited to:

- domestic servitude (e.g., cleaning, childcare, cooking, etc.)

Grooming typically occurs in phases, and it can happen online or face to face, by a stranger or by someone the child or carer knows. Since it is a gradual process, it can sometimes be difficult to detect. Here are a few indicators that an adult may be grooming a child or his/her carer:

- a. Favouring the child over others
- b. Providing the child with rewards or privileges
- c. Isolating the child from others
- d. Expressing interest in a child who is particularly vulnerable or in need of support (e.g., previous abuse of the child by another)
- e. Befriending the parents or carer's who are responsible to protect the child
- f. Providing the child with alcohol or drugs
- g. Building intimacy (i.e., having inside jokes or telling the child that nobody understands him/her like the groomer does)
- h. Threatening, blackmailing, intimidating, or scaring a child by saying the groomer will do something to the child's family or friends

Neglect/negligent treatment

The failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs either deliberately or through negligence. Neglect includes but is not limited to failing to provide adequate food, sufficient or seasonally-appropriate clothing and/or shelter; failing to prevent harm; failing to ensure adequate supervision; failing to ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment or providing inappropriate medical treatment (e.g. administering medication when not authorized); or failing to provide a safe physical environment (e.g. exposure to violence, unsafe programming location, unsafe sleeping practices, releasing a child to an unauthorised adult, access to weapons or harmful objects, failing to child-proof a space that children will occupy, etc.).

Sexual abuse may include but is not limited to indecent touching or exposure, explicit sexual language towards or about a child and grooming. Sexual abuse does not always involve touching. Sexual Exploitation is any actual or attempted abuse of a position of vulnerability, differential power, or trust for sexual purposes including but not limited to profiting monetarily, socially or politically from the sexual exploitation of another. Be aware that technology is a tool sometimes used to sexually exploit a child. The sexual exploitation and abuse of children under the age of 18 is child abuse and a policy violation. It may also constitute a criminal offense, depending upon the age of consent, local laws and customs.
